Re: Delaware Coalition for Open Government Inc. v. Hon. Leo E. Strine, Jr., et al.
Civil Action No. 1:11-cv-01015-MAM

Dear Judge McLaughlin:

This letter is submitted in response to the Order the Court entered on March 8, 2012, directing defendants to provide the Court with a copy of the arbitration judgment that I referenced during oral argument on February 9, 2012, and to describe how the judgment can be accessed by the public.

Attached as Exhibit A is a copy of the judgment I referenced during oral argument, which bears the caption Chrysalis Ventures III, L.P. et al. v. Mobile Armor, Inc., et al., Arbitration No. 001-A-2011-VCL & C.A. No. 6069-VCL. This judgment was filed with the Court on December 30, 2011, and has been accessible to the public since that date through the regular search functions of the LexisNexis File & Serve system for civil matters. That system can be searched remotely by subscribers to the LexisNexis File & Serve system and free of charge by anyone via monitors located at the offices of the Register in Chancery in the New Castle County Courthouse.

In addition, the Register in Chancery recently established a public registry exclusively for the purpose of collecting all Court of Chancery arbitration judgments in one place. Attached as Exhibit B is a series of screen shots that demonstrate how to access the public registry of arbitration judgments in the LexisNexis File & Serve system. At present, the Chrysalis judgment is the only arbitration judgment that has been entered in connection with a proceeding initiated pursuant to 10 Del. C. § 349.

The Honorable Mary A. McLaughlin
