Thanks Larry—maybe we can talk about this later in the week. I also got wrapped up with too many other things today so decided to wait and have the Tom Davis conversation with you tomorrow if that's okay.

We have a number of issues to address in the VT settlement and can fold this into the discussion.

In the settlement agreement, VT has agreed to create an online database of all documents other than medical information within six months of the approval of the first settlement agreement (which occurred about a month ago), to give the families priority access for a reasonable period of time, and then to make it accessible to the public.

I am sure that FOIA exemptions cover most of what has not been turned over to the media. That being said, it may not be possible to survive a constant drumbeat of the media complaining about access.

There's a front page article in the RTD today about Tech withholding information concerning the April 07 shooting. Are they not following FOIA? Should we intervene?
