

María Luisa Ferré Rangel

PRESENTER

María Luisa Ferré Rangel is the president of Grupo Ferré Rangel, a Puerto Rico-based, family owned portfolio of companies with highly diversified strongholds in several industries. It is the holding company for Puerto Rico's largest media company: GFR MEDIA.

Ferré Rangel leads the group's development, growth and diversification strategies in and outside Puerto Rico. She is also a member of the Board of Directors of Banco Popular de Puerto Rico since 2000, where she is chair of the Compensation Committee and member of the Trust and Governance Committees.

Prior to her appointment as president of Grupo Ferré Rangel, Ferré Rangel co-directed the editorial department of El Nuevo Día, with her brother, Luis Alberto. Together, they implemented significant changes to the newspaper's format, design and content. They also restructured the editorial department, brought technology advancements, and supervised the launch of new products and sections.

Ferré Rangel began her publishing career at El Nuevo Día as assistant editor for the lifestyle section.

Ferré Rangel is currently president of the Luis A. Ferré Foundation, a non-profit organization responsible for the administration of the Ponce Art Museum. Since 2011, she has been a member of the Latin American & Caribbean Fund Committee of the Museum of Modern Art. She is also vice president and director of the Ferré Rangel Foundation and actively participates in several other non-profit institutions.

Ferré Rangel graduated magna cum laude from Amherst College in Massachusetts with a bachelor's degree in History and Hispanic studies, and obtained a master's degree with honors from Boston University.

She is married with three children.

María Luisa Ferré Rangel
President
Grupo Ferré Rangel

